LONDON ATLAS of UNIVERSAL GEOGRAPHY. Quarto Edition. Containing Forty-four Coloured Maps, carefully Drawn and beautifully Engraved on Steel and Copper Plates, and an Alphabetical Index to the Geography of the World.

"We have already commented on the pains which appear to have been taken to work up the maps to the latest dates; we may add that they are excellent specimens of engraving and colouring, that the great difficulty of marking mountain ranges, &c., without obscuring the names, has been excellently surmounted, and that we have detected very few misprints. As what may be called a medium atlas for general use, something between the cheap but meagre school collections and the elaborate but rather costly and unwieldy library atlases, the 'London Atlas' deserves heartly recommendation."—Saturday Review.

GEOGRAPHY.—PHYSICAL, HIS-TORICAL, POLITICAL, and DESCRIPTIVE GEO-GRAPHY. By KEITH JOHNSTON, F.R.G.S., Editor of the Africa volume in "Stanford's Compendium of Geography and Travel;" late Leader of the Royal Geographical Society's East African Expedition.

"The work is copiously illustrated with maps; those relating to historical geography are gems, picturing, as they do, the gradual rolling back of the gray cloud of ignorance from B.C. 450 down to the latest Arctic expedition. Altogether the work is a clear, simple, and accurate exposition of the main facts and principles in the various departments of geography, not only useful as a text-book for colleges and the higher schools, or as a handy reference book, but to a large extent very interesting reading."—Times.

Dr. Mann is very careful and conscientious."—Graphic.

trations, cloth gilt, 21s.

ASIA. By A. H. Keane, M.A.I.

Edited by Sir RICHARD TEMPLE, Bart., G.C.S.I., C.I.E. ("Stanford's Compendium of Geography and Travel for General Reading.")

"The design of the work is to supply an exhaustive account of the geography as well as of the material and political condition of the continent, and to present the reader, in as concise a form as the magnitude of the subject will admit of, with a faithful and attractive picture of the countries of Asia. In this Sir Richard Temple and the author, Mr. Keane, have attained a complete success." St. James's Gazette.

"The admirable series of maps supplied by the publisher, and a copious index of subjects, add greatly to the value of the volume as a work of reference. Indeed, no library should be without a copy, for the results of the most recent explorations are to be found recorded in it."—Guardian.
